

6 Peru's Fertilizer with a Fragile Future by Catherine Elton Photographs by Alejandro Balaguer

Once key to this nation's economy, the extraction of seabird guano faces new challenges and market opportunities

16 The Art of Peace in Medellín by Timothy Pratt Photographs by Paul Smith

Renowned Colombian artist Fernando Botero recently donated works worth $200 million to his homeland to encourage cultural growth and an end to violence

24 The Changing Beat of Canada's French Heart by Phillipa Rispin

Proud of its distinct history, venerable Quebec City opens its doors to diverse industries and increased tourism

32 Saving the Song of Sea Giants by Chris Hardman

Intellectuals and politicians joined together across borders to protect the gray whales that nest in Laguna San Ignacio in Baja California

40 Shining Pride of the Mapuche by Caleb Bach

These indigenous people of southern Chile and Argentina have long preserved a tradition of silverwork, producing elaborate jewelry that illuminates their ethnic identity

48 El Salvador's Poet of Recovery by Mario Bencastro Photographs by Jeffrey Crespi

Award-winning write Manlio Argueta captures the struggles and dreams of his fellow Central Americans in lyrical works revealing harsh realities
